

Contents

Opening Address— Shiro OKABE	i
Welcome Address— Haruhiko HORIKAWA	ii
Welcome Address— Mitsuma MATSUI	iii
Silvicultural practices in the Philippines— Antonio V. GLORI	1
Height increment of Pinus caribaea var. hondurensis in Thailand— Prasert BHODTHIPUKS	7
Observations on the growth and characteristics of Caribbean pine at the test plantation established in Malaysia— Shigeru CHIBA	11
Problems relating to studies on natural regeneration and afforestation in rain forest of Sabah— LIEW That Chim	25
Natural regeneration of the deciduous forest in Thailand— Choob KHEMNARK	31
Tending of commercial natural regeneration in shrubs at a logged-over tropical rainforest in East Kalimantan— Hendi SUHAENDI	45
Natural regeneration and reforestation in the peat swamp forest of Sarawak— LEE Hua Seng	51
Problems relating to the research on forest fertilization in the tropical rain forest of Balikpapan, Kalimantan, Timor, Indonesia— Akira KAWANA	61
Some notes on natural regeneration in East Kalimantan— Wawan KUSTIAWAN and Soedrajat SOERADJI	71
Physiological study on Malaysian tropical tree species. Study on storage and germination of Leguminosae and Dipterocarpaceae seeds— Satohiko SASAKI	75
Some aspects of artificial regeneration in Burma with particular reference to teak (Tectona grandis Linn f.) and Eucalyptus spp.-- U Mya AUNG	89
Some observations of natural regeneration of teak (Tectona grandis Linn f.) in teak-bearing forests of Burma— U Tun HLA	97
Some notes on artificial revegetation in East Kalimantan— Sambas WIRAKUSUMAH	107
Site classification based on soil in Northern Malaysia— Yasuo OSUMI	119
The causal agent of Benguet Pine deterioration in the Philippines— Hiroaki YAMAGUCHI	125
Phenology of Philippine dipterocarps— Chozaburo TAMARI and Ireneo L. DOMINGO	131
Tumpangsari method for establishment of teak plantations in Java— Yunus KARTASUBRATA	141
Eucalypts for South-East Asia— Richard L. WILLAN	153
Studies on multiplication of Bamboo by different growth types of bamboo rhizomes — Etsuzo UCHIMURA	163
Regeneration of hill dipterocarp forests in Peninsular Malaysia: The selective management system— Zulmukhshar Md. SHAARI	169
Technology of regeneration of natural forest in Japan— Taisitiroo SATOO	173
Tending techniques of forest in Japan— Takao FUJIMORI	185
General Discussion	199
Concluding Remarks— Mitsuma MATSUI	205
List of Participants	207